Program Description

Effective cross-examinations can damage a witness' credibility, limit the witness' direct testimony, and elicit helpful testimony for your case. Learn the techniques used by successful criminal trial lawyers to accomplish these goals. The morning session will feature live cross-examination demonstrations plus commentary from experienced judges focusing on advanced strategies and techniques. In the afternoon, participants will work with two hypothetical sexual assault and search warrant case files and perform extensive mock cross-examinations of real police officers and volunteers. Don't miss this unique opportunity to test and refine your cross-examination skills in a safe and supportive environment.

Register for the morning only featuring presentations by noted faculty, and dynamic demonstrations. Or stay for the full day including afternoon skills workshop for hands-on exercises. Workshop materials will be distributed electronically prior to the program. Advance preparation is required.
